Hong Kong Sandplay Therapy Association

Sandplay Therapy has been one of the important expressive Jungian therapies. With the facilitation of sand, water and various miniatures, the clients are well contained and expressed freely inside the sand trays. Dora Kalff adopted the Jungian framework for the ground work of sandplay therapy. Hence, in this short course we would explore the theory of Jung and its application on sandplay therapy, with case illustration.

This course is designed for those who have basic understanding of Jungian Sandplay Therapy. The participants are required to have at least 12 workshop hours in Sandplay Therapy offered by HKSTA and/or ISST. This is an ISST accredited training and twelve workshop hours will be given upon the completion of the course.

HKSTA had offered a course "Basic Jungian Concepts and their Applications in Sandplay Therapy" taught by Mr. Kwok in April to May, 2017. The contents of this course is different from the one in 2017. Those who had attended the course in 2017 are welcome to join this current one.

Trainer: George Kwok Kar Kin, registered social worker

He currently works as a counselor in Hong Kong.

Mr. Kwok has adopted sandplay therapy in his practice since 2010 and served as a committee member in Hong Kong Sandplay Therapy Association (HKSTA) in 2011. He was certified as sandplay therapist under International Society of Sandplay Therapy (ISST) in 2015. Earlier in this year, Mr. Kwok has attained his ISST certification as a Sandplay Therapist Teacher (CS-T). Mr. Kwok has published a paper “Chi-lin 麒麟 in sandplay therapy” in Journal of sandplay therapy in 2015, and he also presented in 23rd International Society of Sandplay Therapy Congress held in Ottawa, Canada and National conference for Sandplay Therapy Association in New Mexico in 2018. Mr. Kwok has numerous teaching experiences. In 2014 and 2017, he delivered a short course to a group of social workers in Caritas Hong Kong on Jungian concepts in sandplay therapy. In 2015, Mr. Kwok also taught with Dr. Liza Ravitz when she delivered a sandplay therapy training workshop in Hong Kong. He also taught with Linda Cunningham in a five days introductory training in Seattle and a one-day introductory workshop with Becky Jackson in New Mexico at 2018.
